COUNTY MAY BE GIVEN ANOTHER STATE HIGHWAY

Approaches to Antioch Bridge May be Made State Highway

(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—Two bills declaring the entire highway between Sacramento and the San Francisco bay district via the new Antioch bridge and Contra Costa county, a state road subject to maintenance by the State Highway commission will be introduced before the legislature by Assemblyman Percy G. West of Sacramento and Assemblyman Robert P. Easley of Antioch, they announced today.

West will sponsor a bill declaring the thirty-five mile highway from Sacramento to the Antioch bridge a state road and Easley's bill will provide for the forty-five mile stretch from the bridge through Contra Costa and Alameda counties to Oakland.

LOCAL MEN AT REALTORS MEET

More than 500 realtors and public officials, including delegates from Richmond, attended the inauguration ceremonies of the California Real Estate Association last night in the Palace Hotel in San Francisco to see the installation of Harry B. Allen as president of the association.

Local delegates, headed by E. B. Bulk, president of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors, had a special reserved table for the big banquet and ball that culminated a day of activity on the part of the state association officials who adopted a legislative program for 1927 and transacted a mass of routine business. Harry Culver, retiring president and founder of Culver City, presided at the morning and afternoon sessions.

Culver was toastmaster of the evening. There were addresses of welcome by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco and Samuel G. Buckbee, past president of the San Francisco Real Estate board and the administering of oaths of office to Allen and other state board officials by State Real Estate Commissioner J. R. Gaherty and selections by the Glee club of the San Francisco Real Estate board.

Chester H. Rowell was the principal speaker of the evening. Allen in his inaugural address stressed the importance of the role taken by realtors, declaring that in California alone last year, real estate sales amounted to almost approximately three quarters of a billion dollars. He asserted that 60 percent of the wealth of the United States is invested in real estate.

Dr. Boyer Has New Offices

MARTINEZ, Jan. 3.—Necessity has converted the last storeroom in the basement of the county court house into an office for Dr. T. A. Boyer, county probation officer and juvenile court investigator. Boyer's office on the upper floor of the court house has been given over to Miss Katherine Beasley, county welfare worker, and the office the probation officer could occupy in the new detention home has been taken over by the supervisors.

Up to Monday this storeroom has housed the confiscated stills, booze, and moonshine taken in raids by the dry squad. But like the other storerooms that have in time given way to the assessor, engineer and district attorney, who now has quarters in a separate building, must relinquish its rights and submit to conversion into an office.

American Trust Company Starts Activities In This Section

Larkin Younce Remains As Head of Local and County Banks

The merger of the Mercantile Trust company and the American Bank became effective yesterday and in the future the combined institutions will do business under the name of "American Trust Company." The history of the Mercantile Trust company dates back to 1857 and the American Bank back to 1854.

The new institution starts out with assets of over 250 million dollars, and has eighty three offices in the metropolitan area about San Francisco bay.

It is now one of the strongest banking institutions in the country, and has offices throughout the United States and in London, and also has correspondents in all of the foreign countries.

It has many departments, and the service that it can render to its hundreds of thousands of customers is not exceeded by any other banking institution in the country.

John Drum, who has been connected with banking for the past quarter of a century is the president of the merged banks.

Larkin J. Younce, who has been a resident of Richmond for the past fifteen years, and connected with the same bank at this time, is vice president and district manager of the local banks and also has under his supervision the other banks in this county that are a part of the American Trust company.

There are seven branches of the American Trust company in Contra Costa—three in Richmond, one at Martinez, one at Concord, one at Pittsburg and one at Byron.

To show to what extent the banking business of Richmond has grown in the past fifteen years, it might be pertinent to state that in 1911 the combined deposits of all the banks in Richmond were less than $500,000, while today the combined deposits of the three branches alone of the American Trust company in Richmond, that at Sixth and Macdonald, at Twenty-third and Macdonald, and at Washington and Richmond avenues, totals $4,450,000.

Merchants Association Starts New Year With Enthusiastic Meeting At Hotel Carquinez

The Richmond Merchants' association held its first meeting of 1927 at Hotel Carquinez last night. A representative membership attended the dinner to show appreciation of the work of the retiring officers and bid welcome to the incoming board. President Ward McRacken conducted the routine wind-up of affairs by complimenting the various committee members for their fine work in the past year.

Secretary Marie Macdonald Jensen gave a comprehensive report of the year's activities including get-together dinners, trade extension tour, industrial exposition, securing the incorporation charter, promotion of the doll buggy parade, presentation of the fall fashion show and participation in the annual Christmas party for Richmond children. This resume showed that the merchants were demonstrating an excellent spirit of cooperation through its Better Business committee's efforts. Mrs. Jensen thanked the members for their splendid support and pledged continued work for the good of the association. A report of finances for the year was also given.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Harry Albert, president for this year, Ward McRacken laid at midnight tonight charged mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Galway.

The arrest came after young hours by District Attorney Ed-of the murder, one of the most atrocious ever committed on Long Island.

Four new memberships were taken in the association by the Pacific Gas and Electric company, the American Trust company and the Mechanics bank. A round table discussion followed during which some excellent suggestions were made for the welfare of the association during the new year.

THE PASSING FADS OF HEALTH

Several competent authorities inform us that crippled hair is even now passe and all the girls who succumbed to the mutilation are now trying to grow hair long enough to knot at the back.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Paid Charity

I wonder if you realize that the society to which you refer is a pretty well known fad in treatment are always popular for brief periods, like cropping of the crowning glory. Numerous "pathies" have temporarily enjoyed the preference of the light minded. In recent times we have had a bewildering succession of wonderful systems of healing, such as the hocus pocus of the Abrams machine, Conclism, this or that brand of faith healing, mineral, fruit buncome, fasting cures, freak buncome, drugless treatment, senseless science, and countless phantasmal games of the mail order humbugs. It would seem that no pipe dream can be so idiotic that it will not find a following among the lay population and here and there a professional convert who is willing to exploit such a following.

A fad that has fastened on a body educated element of the medical profession in recent years is aptly termed machine medicine. The highfain'tin' and inordinately prolonged course of training a physician is required to undergo nowadays tends to suppress the development of diagnostic skill and exaggerate the importance of laboratory or machine tests, and in consequence of this the medical schools are turning out some very aggressive agents for the laboratories but not such good physicians as a sound course of training should make.

The great ambition of many of the young medical graduates of this bad system is to join a little group, each member being a "specialist," and the whole group maintaining a little laboratory with a hired technician or two to make the various tests, and the group maintaining a common or co-operative suite of offices. They generally like to call themselves a "clinic." When you consult any member of the bond you are due for a complete circuit, more or less, and besides the laboratory technicians grab you as you go the dizzy round and give you the works. Of course the X-ray operator takes a series of pictures of your insides. Maybe they even convey your palpitating remains to an imposing oral specialist toward the end, and he convinces you that some of your teeth need a very exclusive and expensive kind of extraction.

This is nothing less than a scandal in the medical profession today.

The poorly educated young doctor of the day has never had a chance to develop diagnostic skill. The machine policy that has gained control of medical education has prevented that. And naturally enough such a doctor is incapable of sizing up a case until it has been "worked up" in the routine machine fashion. Blood counts, Wassermann tests, urinalyses, methebromine record, radiographs, blood chemistry—he must have everything in sight before he can do anything.

This machine method may not be a bad thing to apply in about the first meeting of the new year will be held by the Iquaque Campfire girls on Friday night at the city hall clubroom. Initiation will be held under the direction of Miss Sue Mahnke and a New Year's party will be staged.

Boyhood Outfits

My mother had her faults, at least I supposed she did. I certainly thought so when I was a boy, but nowadays I cannot seem to remember them. She did things for which I was naturally grateful; first, she saw to it that I had books to read; and secondly, that I had things to do.

She bought me man's size: tools and allowed me to buy clear white shirts and pine from which I made bookends and closed boxes for the kitchen, etc. She required me to make a drawing of each project figure out the amount of lumber necessary, add twenty percent for waste, submit to her the probable cost of materials and she would charge her for the complete job. If she approved of the figure I marched to the lumber yard, selected my stock and had it delivered.

The cost of proving a new way to health

This offers you a new discovery which physicians are prescribing now to millions. It is a gland secretion, the cream being the best.

It stimulates the liver, increases the flow of bile. Modern research proves that cathartics never do that.

This new flow of bile, which starts at once, loosens the bowels. It relieves constipation quickly, usually within ten hours.

Then bile is an antiseptic. It combats the germs which breed in the blood. A new supply of bile ends countless results of blood impurities.

Bile is a digestant. This new supply ends bowel indigestion.

This liver gland secretion is embodied in Droxol tablets. Each tablet represents ten drops.

COOLIDGE ASKS NEUTRALITY IN NICARAGUA

By JOHN T. LAMBERT
(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—By his command for absolute neutrality, President Coolidge was tonight understood to have threatened the American financial control which in the past twelve years has brought revolution, disorders and serious financial suffering to Nicaragua.

Advices reaching Washington reported continued defeats for the Diaz government forces by the Señor revolutionists who claim that American bankers have reaped vast profits from the Nicaraguan National bank and scuttled the National Railroad.

It is said that the President will let go unheeded the appeal for intervention by Diaz, the revolutionists assert, was aided in securing office by influence of the American bankers.

In the revolutionists win, they promise to oust J. G. White and company, New York promotion engineers, from alleged control of their railroad. They also threaten to get rid of the Americans who are said to have operated their bank since J. and W. Eeligan company and Brown Brothers company, both of New York, negotiated their first loan of $6,000,000 to Nicaragua.

Meanwhile, prominent members of the senate foreign relations committee were considering the necessity of a public probe into the alleged meddling of the bankers and the senate department in Nicaraguan affairs.

Evidence that the United States government has spent an average of $1,000,000 a year to keep a Marine force in Nicaragua principally for protection of the bankers' investments, is understood to have reached the committee.

Professor Albert H. Putney of the American University has stated in a memorandum now in possession of the committee that United States marines dominated three national elections that since 1912 and actively electioneered for candidates for president favored by the New York investors.

In return for their loans, the two American banking groups received 51 percent of the stock of the National Bank and National Railway, according to Putney's memorandum. Putney claims they loaded up the bank with officials, in its 2nd year on Broadway, has a color sense that is so much more instinctive in the French women than with us Americans. Like most French women, Miss Adoree is also a designer of no mean ability.

Women should be very careful of the colors they wear. A "Subway Sadie" is a story about a New York working girl who meets a subway guard. They fall in love with each other. But the course of true love never does run smooth, even in pictures. The romance is called off when Sadie gets her cherished opportunity to go to Paris as buyer for her store. The marriage that had been planned is indefinitely postponed, and the subway guard is heart-broken.

But he is injured in an accident on the day Sadie is to sail. And Sadie comes to him. So they get married after all. After this comes the surprise of the picture. This we will not tell you.

This is a brilliant picture. Dorothy Mackall was never better. She is convincing. Jack Mulhall acts the part of a subway guard naturally and well. Charles Murray is always amusing, and he was never funnier than in the role of a taxi driver in this picture.

Standing out in the highlights is the unusually smart fashion show. Another scene calling for special mention is the night club scene in which a huge silver slipper open and reveals a group of dancing girls who stage a decidedly pleasing entertainment.

Other features include the third thrilling chapter of "Snowed In"; "Mutt and Jeff" cartoon; "Topics of the Day," and Larry Caneo at the organ.

"Not a new mile of track was built for the railroad," said professor Putney, "and not a single new engine and few, if any, new cars were bought. Almost one-half the gross receipts of the railroads were paid out in dividends, and the operating expenses of the road were increased from the equivalent of about $30,000 gold to a year to about $350,000 gold."

"A change in the currency system of the country was effected in such a way as to permit large commissions and other profits to American investors, and it resulted in the almost complete ruin of the business of the country."

A demand for congressional probe is being made by the opponents of "dollar diplomacy" in Central America. Agents of the Señor revolutionists are understood to have pledged themselves to appear before the committee as witnesses.

THREE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS OVER HOLIDAYS

Injuries sustained in accidents in this city and vicinity during the week end have placed three men in the Cottage hospital.

Thomas Gainford, 75, of San Francisco, sustained a fractured left leg just above the ankle and bruises about the body when he fell from the second story window of the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. Johnston, Jr., 602 Twenty-sixth street.

According to the police, Gainford, who is partially blind, was alone in the house at the time. He was groping his way about and in some manner fell through a window. He was found at 3:30 o'clock, an hour after the accident by his daughter. First aid was administered and he was taken to the Cottage hospital.

The police department received a report on Saturday afternoon that Robert Swetina, 178 West A street, Pittsburgh, had been brought to the Emergency hospital in an unconscious condition. He had a fractured left arm and deep lacerations about the left eye. Upon recovering consciousness he remembered little about the accident but said that he was riding a motorcycle on the San Pablo dam road and must have fallen. He was picked up and taken to the hospital by passing motorists.

After falling from a balcony of a dance hall in Martinez, Frank Vargas, 661 Twentieth street, Richmond, was brought to the Emergency hospital here by Miss Leonora Kuchen, 2385 Downer avenue, and Miss Hazel Pangrazio, Twenty-third and Sutter

One of the Last
Of Forty-Niners
Answers Last Call

Reuben L. Page, one of the last of the Forty-niners, who celebrated his ninetieth birthday a short time ago, passed away at his home, 736 Fifth street, late Sunday night. His remains will be sent to Boulder Creek, Santa Cruz county, this morning from where the funeral rites will be held on Wednesday. Page was formerly a justice of the peace at Boulder Creek and is well known in that section of the state.

The life of Page in this state has been a colorful one. He arrived at Clark's Point, San Francisco, on February 4, 1849, after a sea voyage from his birthplace in Wales. He was an orphan and only fourteen years of age upon his arrival in this state.

Going into the gold mining game he was a familiar figure around Poverty Flats on the Yuba River. Later, in 1866, he moved to Boulder Creek, where for a number of years he held the office of justice of the peace.

Page came to live with his son in this city in 1918. He was quite active, spending a great deal of his time in chopping wood as a pastime. Several years ago he went to Boulder Creek where he took part in a picture being filmed of the pioneer days. He also took part in the recent Forty-niner celebration held in Sacramento.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice Page; and the following sons and daughters:

He suffered a broken right arm and a probable fractured rib.

The Road

EVERY one was glad when the new section of the road was built. All realized that personal visits could be made more easily, that trade would be brisker, that matters of general public interest would be carried on with more efficiency and dispatch.

The telephone road, that already enables every one to travel so easily, so cheaply and so far, is constantly being lengthened. Each year over 800,000 telephones are added to the Bell System. Every subscriber shares in the increased value given to telephone service by this extension which hourly is enlarging the scope of every one's activities by permitting an ever broadening interchange of ideas.

Women Dont Want To Obey Anti-Jaywalking Regulations In Oakland Policemen Report

The female of the species is fewer."

The Eastbay Safety Council urged the public to drive carefully and walk carefully as the most constructive of New Year's resolutions.

Down town traffic officers to day related incidents of thrilling encounters with female jaywalkers some of whom dug their heels into the asphalt and screamed to high heaven that traffic rules were all right for men but did not apply to them.

Officer W. W. Hewitt at Fourteenth and Broadway was one of the figures in an incident of this nature. Hewitt saw a young well-dressed, pretty woman coming toward him half way across the street with the red light against her, and whistled at her. She informed him that she knew more about crossing streets than any traffic cop and kept coming Hewitt gently but forcibly escorted her back to the other curb. As soon as he had turned his back she moved across the other intersection also against the red signal and into the arms of M. G. Rosen. Rosen brought her back, gently but forcibly. After she had relieved her mind she walked down the sidewalk and attempted to cross Broadway in the middle of the block. Officer Walter Searing at Thirteenth and Broadway captured her this time and brought her safely back to the curb. Searing offered her the alternative of crossing intersections as they should be crossed or accompanying him to the city hall to tell it to the judge. When last seen she was still on the sidewalk.

Officers Albert Seaton and W. E. Ramsey at Twelfth and Broadway played heroic parts in a lamarce at Twelfth and Broadway in which an eloquent female jaywalker was finally subdued peacefully and without the oft-threatened visit to the city jail.

So insistent was this woman that Officer Ramsey found it necessary to pick her up under the arms and drag her back to the curb. Seaton informed her politely that crossing with the signals and not against them was the lesser of two evils. If she persisted it would be necessary for her to accompany him in a visit to the city hall, which would probably cost her five dollars. Although the woman was dressed in a fur coat and appeared to belong to the upper order of society her language was more picturesque than decorative. It brought howls of glee from nearby newsboys and downtown shoppers, and created a small riot at one of Oakland's busiest corners.

"Men, children and dogs cross the intersections with no trouble to the officers," said Lieutenant Charles L. Hemphill. "It is only the women who have upset our party, delayed traffic and made spectacles of themselves. I am sorry to say. An interesting fact is that we have an average of one man an hour coming into the central station to complain that his toes have been stepped on by the traffic man. The women do not come in, they kick up a fuss right on the ground. On the whole, our new system of regulating pedestrians as well as automobiles through the automatic lights and bells is working out well. It is only the occasional person who makes a row. Motorists have been particularly quick to cooperate. Traffic moves faster in the downtown district and everything is much easier to handle than before. Accidents are fewer."

The Eastbay Safety Council urged the public to drive carefully and walk carefully as the most constructive of New Year's resolutions.

Permits issued yesterday totalled $8,956 and of this amount $5,550 will be for the construction of three cottages in this city.

If business is as brisk throughout the year as it was yesterday, Hurley remarked, there is no doubt that the three million dollar mark will be reached before the end of 1927.

Permits yesterday were as follows:

To C. G. Lambrecht, permit to build the addition to store on Macdonald avenue between Twenty-second street and Twenty-third street at a cost of $150.

Salvatore Ganuso, to build cottage on Barrett avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets at a cost of $300.

To L. Barusley, cottage at Shasta avenue between Solano and Colusa avenues at a cost of $2000.

N. E. Anderson, to build a cottage at Roosevelt avenue between Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets at a cost of $3250.

R. Linden, to build garage on Seventh street between Lincoln and the Santa Fe tracks at a cost of $50.

C. W. Wasabough to build garage on Nineteenth street between Chanslor and Bissell avenues at a cost of $200.

Elks Will See Motion Picture

Following the lodge session of the Richmond Elks tonight, the organization will be entertained by Harry Langdon motion picture, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp."

The program for the year will be outlined during the business meeting.

BIRTHS RECORDED

Birth certificates filed at the city health department yesterday were as follows:

December 18, to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, 825 Third street, a boy, named Edward Lawrence, Jr.

December 24, to Mr. and Mrs. D. F. McCurdy, 156, Seventeenth street, a girl, named Gloria Edith.

December 28, to Mr. and Mrs. Cesare Benedetti, of Wenz Avenue, San Pablo, a boy, named Cesare Gorgi.

SAFETY FIRST IS SLOGAN OF ARMY FLIERS

"Safety First" has been considered in very close detail in providing for the different emergencies that may confront the aviators on such a long journey as that being made by the five amphibian Army planes in the Pan-American flight southward to Central and South America.

And the planes are equipped with several interesting devices for the safe-guarding of the Army fliers on flights over water.

One device is a small still, for purifying sea water, so that even if forced to drop on the water there will be a supply of fresh water which will last as long as will the supply of gasoline. And for drinking purposes, together with the emergency ration, this fresh water may prove of great utility. The stills were manufactured at the Army Air Corps Intermediate depot at Rockwell field, Calif.

There is also, on each plane, a collapsible, two-man, pneumatic raft. This when deflated is carried in a small waterproof bag, only 10 by 14 inches. A container of carbon dioxide inflates the raft to carrying size, which is 10 feet by 4 feet. There is a pair of collapsible oars with each raft.

Another article of equipment which may be of vital necessity is a signal kite, designed and constructed by Samuel Perkins, who made the first man-carrying kite. There are five of these, one for each plane, which were donated to the flight by Perkins. In case a plane is "down" on the water, the kite, flying high above with a long red streamer attached, will attract the attention of distant vessels, in the day-time, while for night work, each plane is provided with rockets and flares. When the kite is not in use it can be folded and stowed away in a small compartment.

ST. EDMUNDS GUILD
AUXILIARY TO MEET

All members of the St. Edmunds Guild Auxiliary are urged by the officers to be present at the meeting of the organization to be held this afternoon at the Parish Hall, at two o'clock. Important business is to be discussed at this meeting according to an announcement made last night.

READ IT FIRST IN THE RECORD-HERALD.

According to the December report of City Treasurer L. R. Vaughn filed with the city council last night, the city had a balance of $147,995.33 to its credit on the last day of the year.

Local Chamber Will Name New Officers Jan. 12

The annual election of officers of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce will take place at the regular meeting of the board of directors, Hotel Carquinez, Wednesday, January 12th.

Seven directors were elected on December 15th among them Harry Albert, Richmond merchant, who is the new member of the board. Six former directors were returned to office: E. B. Bull, M. A. Hays, T. H. Delap, W. T. Helms, Joseph F. Brooks, and James A. McVittie.

The other fourteen members of the board are Charles S. Renwick, H. A. Johnson, P. M. Sanford, president of the chamber; Al Paulson, Fred Newsome, Aubrey Wilson, Ira Vaughn, Fred Claude, E. J. Garrard, George N. Rosker, W. S. Scott, F. B. LaMoline, Larkin J. Younce, and E. M. Downer.

The chamber of commerce is looking forward to one of the busiest years in its history. A number of vitally important matters call for the earnest consideration of the chamber of commerce members. There is the matter of a new general hospital which is a recognized need of the city. A chamber of commerce committee, headed by Charles S. Renwick, is making a survey to determine upon the size and character of the chamber of commerce.

There is also the problem of tapping the great traffic artery to the North and East and bringing more people to downtown Richmond and to the automobile ferry service to San Francisco, both matters now being studied by the chamber of commerce.

These are only two of numerous other problems calling for the solution.

San Ramon Woman Seriously Burned

Narrowly escaping death, Mrs. Manuel Pereira, 38, was seriously burned when the family home at San Ramon was burned to the ground with a loss of $4,000 on Sunday morning. Kerosene which Mrs. Pereira was using to start a fire spilled and caught fire. Pereira who rushed to the aid of her wife was slightly burned about the hands. The two children of the family were unharmed in the blaze.

Mrs. Pereira suffered first degree burns about the legs and arms when the kerosene which she was pouring into the kitchen stove flared up and enveloped the lower part of her body. Her husband who was asleep in an adjoining room was awakened by her screams and rushed to her aid.

The entire personal effects including the furniture of the family was destroyed by the flames.

Ty Cobb Is Greeted with Flowers as Georgians Declare Belief in Innocence in Baseball Scandal

PLAYERS LEAVE FOR HEARING OF SCANDAL

(By Universal Service) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—Three Philadelphians, including Eddie Collins, former manager of the White Sox, will leave here tomorrow afternoon for Chicago to attend the baseball scandal hearing in Commissioner Landis' office Wednesday morning.

The others are Leo Burns, first baseman of the Cleveland club, who was with Detroit in the alleged "sloughing" series against Chicago in 1917, and Kid Gleason, former coach of the Sox.

Collins, Burns and Gleason, all received their summons today from Commissioner Landis' headquarters and readily agreed to help clear up the charges made by "Swede" Risberg.

"Pep" Young, second baseman of the Detroit club in 1917, who played in the much discussed four games series over Labor Day was not notified by Commissioner Landis to attend the hearing. Young has been out of organized baseball for several years. He is now engaged in the automobile business.

There was considerable surprise today when the name of Jack Lapp appeared in the list of players summoned to Chicago. Lapp, former Athletic and White Sox catcher, has been dead since February 6, 1920.

After serving many years with Connie Mack's pennant winning team, Lapp was released to the White Sox in 1916. His health failed soon after and he retired from active playing, although his name probably was on the Chicago roster of 1917.

Collins was captain of the Sox during the supposed "sloughing" period, had nothing further to say today except he was anxious to face Risberg and brand the latter's charges as "atrocious lies."

Wesley M. E. Mellin and Hoss Jenkins, forwards; Fowell, center and Jenkins and Criglers, guards.

Grace Lutherans: Santaella, and Burdon, forwards; Johnson, center; Almond and Nemith, guards; Sanders, sub-forward.

Community: Hillier and C. Roberts, forwards; S. Roberts, center; Fitzpatrick and Baskett, guards; Sanders, sub-forward.

SCANDAL

With the playing off of the Stanford-Alabama game on Saturday at Pasadena, a game that did not decide the championship of the United States, the college football season on the Pacific coast is closed. There are still some professional football games scheduled. Basketball has started and baseball season will be on its way.

BASEBALL

The Oakland ball club will at least finish in the first division of the Pacific Coast league, according to the "best authorities." About every player on the Oak team is at least six feet tall and if height counts for anything—

"Buzz" Arlett will be back in his old position in right field and Louis Gulsto and Jack Fenton will alternate at first.

PRO FOOTBALL

The California All-stars lost to the Ernie Nevers' Duluth Eskimos by a score of 10 to 6 at Sacramento on Sunday. Nevers kicked field goal in the first quarter and crashed through the California line in the last quarter for a touchdown. Buck Bailey led the Stars. "Potsy" Clarke and "Ducky" Grant starred for the losers. Cobb Rooney, Eskimo fullback received a broken rib and a badly gashed eye.

MORE FOOTBALL

The authorities at West Point have characterized the report that Morton Kaer and Wild Bill Kelly will enter the academy as "ridiculous." Major Thorpe, athletic head at the academy explained that the appointments could not be made for seven months and there was no indication that the players mentioned can pass the entrance tests.

On the other hand a large piece of artillery would be safe for there would be no danger of it "walking off."

SIX BOUTS ARE SCHEDULED FOR EL CERRITO

The El Cerrito athletic club will start the new year off with thirty rounds of boxing at the club gymnasium on Friday night. A banner year is looked forward to by the managers of the club and some of the best boxers in the region will tangle during the year.

Joe Limas will meet Roy Sutherland at the club on Friday night and Roy is regarded as the best lightweight on the coast. He has just returned from a successful tour of the east. He is also mixed with some of the good ones at Oakland and San Francisco.

Billy Burke, the redheaded scrapper who gave Joe Limas one of the hardest bouts of his young life, will mix with Ray Walker in the six-round semi-final. There will also be the usual fast and furious preliminaries. Four fast round bouts are scheduled and the fans are assured of a good show.

For the year of 1927 to the following plumbers: Charles Schiavone, George S. Carrick, A. C. Nutter, R. A. Washburn and Charles Soldavini.

The application of City Clerk Alice Morris for permission to erect a sectional filing cabinet was granted by the trustees.

City Engineer Ross L. Calfee was instructed to spend fifty dollars in the construction of culverts across Lexington avenue in front of the Fairmont school.

Applications will be received by the trustees next Monday night when they will appoint a night patrolman. The salary for the position will be $150.00.

Mrs. W. J. Schouette, prominent social worker of El Cerrito, appeared before the board Monday night and stated that the city had grown large enough to support a local charity organization and not be dependent on Richmond for taking care of its poor.

Love For Fine Clothes Brings Man's Arrest

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—His love for fine clothes caused the arrest in San Diego of Charles J. Dryden accused of forgery involving the Equitable Trust company and the Moreland Realty corporation of this city, according to advice received here today.

Dryden is alleged to have stolen two checks from the Realty corporation's office. Later, it is charged, he forged the names of the vice-president treasurer of the corporation on the checks, making each in the amount of $75,000.

Detectives learned that Dryden to accommodate his large wardrobe, always traveled with an extra big trunk.

Detectives located this trunk in a San Diego hotel. Dryden had been going to the races at Tia Juana and losing his money. The races, detectives learned, had been the cause of Dryden's downfall within a few years from his position as one of the best theatrical painters in New York.

According to reports from the coast, Dryden had only $870 when he was arrested. Detectives believe he has hidden many thousands of dollars he is believed to have obtained by forgeries.

Dryden was arrested in 1925 on a charge of passing a forged check for $25 on the Corn Exchange bank of this city. He was tried and acquitted. He was arrested later in Miami as a forger, but beat the charge.

Fight Started In Both Houses Of Congress To Build Navy On Par With Other Nations

By JAMES R. NOURSE

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The fight to save the navy from the position of inferiority into which economy and the disarmament conference have driven it opened in both houses of congress today.

The senate listened to a stirring speech by Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California in which defects of the nation's naval strength were disclosed, accompanied by a demand for larger appropriations to bring the navy up to the 5-5-3 ratio with Great Britain and Japan, permitted by the arms conference treaty.

In the House, the naval appropriation bill, carrying an authorization for ten additional cruisers, was introduced, thereby opening the way for the fight which Chairman Butler and his associates in the naval affairs committee will make to obtain appropriations for immediate construction.

The provision for the cruisers has been approved by President Coolidge only so far as the "authorization" is concerned. Strong navy advocates in the House, however, will insist upon going beyond the President's authorization and will demand appropriations to start building the needed warships.

Senator Johnson in his speech to the senate stripped bare the history of the arms conference and told how the United States had been outwitted by the representatives of Great Britain in agreeing to a program which has lowered the American navy to a place of inferiority and danger. He entered into the conference with a preponderance of battleship and battle cruiser strength, but was hoodwinked into agreeing to a program of "scrapping the cream of our battleships without any approach to a parallel sacrifice upon the part of Britain or any other nation."

After these battleships were scrapped, the senator continued, efforts were made to modernize the balance of the fleet, whereupon propaganda against this program was started. The senator attributed this propaganda to British sources and scored that portion of the American press which opposed the modernization program.

Senator Johnson said:

"In this matter of the modernization of the old battleships which he had saved from the wreck of the naval treaty a great point was made by the British press and a part of our deluded American press that we would be guilty of a violation of the treaty if we increased the maximum elevation of our guns to an equality with the elevation of British guns."

"On this vital point the propaganda succeeded. While President Coolidge announced that under the treaty we had a right to increase our gun elevations, he nevertheless struck the item out of the budget on the ground of economy."

Taking up the suggestion for a new disarmament conference, Senator Johnson ridiculed the proposal, saying:

"We have had one disillusioning disarmament conference. Out of it we have come disarmed and out of it Great Britain and Japan have come wholly armed. We went into the last disarmament conference the richest nation on earth able to carry out a definite, fixed naval program, which we had ad-

Petty Thieves Had Busy Time Here Over The Holidays

Three thefts, one of a morsel of a New Year's dinner, one of apparel to wear for dinner and one of materials to build a house, were reported to the police late Friday evening.

A. J. Childs reported that at 5 p. m. three bags of cement were stolen from a house under construction at Key boulevard, between Barrett and Nevins avenues. The value was set at $5.50.

Joseph Smirch, of the West Hotel, reported that at 6 o'clock one man had entered his room and departed with $20 worth of clothing. The place was unlocked.

Tony Bagovich, 630 South Third street at 6:30 o'clock reported that someone had slaughtered a prize goat in the field near his home.

SOLONS ASK END OF RUM POISONING

A brief but fiery debate shook the house, when Representative Emanuel Celler of New York, presented a bill to punish the poisoning of industrial alcohol with from one to five years in the penitentiary, and charged:

"Many members of the house and of the other chamber of congress drink to excess. They should not countenance anything which would make liquor poisonous to others who are less informed than they are."

Developments which came in rapid-fire order, follow:

1.—Representative Loring Black of New York, offered a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information regarding the officers and agents of the government connected with the poisoning of alcohol with a view to prosecuting them on charges of homicide.

2.—Representative Benjamin L. Fairchild of New York, submitted a resolution calling upon district attorneys and grand juries in the several states in which deaths from poison alcohol have occurred to prosecute federal officers responsible for poisoning denatured alcohol.

3.—Representative Fred A. Britton of Illinois presented a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to "discontinue the use of any denaturant of industrial alcohol which is poisonous or destructive to human life."

4.—Representative Celler introduced a bill prohibiting any government official to prescribe the denaturation of alcohol with any poison or lethal substance. Imprisonment for one year for first offenders and five years for second offenders is provided in the bill.

5.—In the senate, Senator Edwards offered a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury for all reports bearing upon the poisoning of industrial alcohol, the laws under which the treasury acts, and particularly any correspondence between the treasury and Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league regarding the poisoning policy.
